

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

SIGMA XI QUARTERLY

VOLUME II

MARCH 1914

NUMBER 1

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE

Edward Orton, Junior

Henry Baldwin Ward

Floyd Karker Richtmyer

Samuel Wendell Williston

Address all communications to the Managing Editor, Urbana, Ill.

THE CURRENT YEAR

This initial number of volume II has been devoted exclusively to the records of the Atlanta Convention and to an article which came with the request of the Kansas chapter that it should be printed at the earliest possible date. Its relation to the matters discussed at the Convention seemed to justify the omission this time of some regular departments which will hereafter appear in their usual places.

The editorial committee has undergone a slight change in membership and by action of the Convention the corresponding secretary has been appointed managing editor for this year. There is no intention to modify the character of the publication which will be devoted as heretofore to the general problems and interests of the organization.

Members of the Society are urged to send articles or communications for the consideration of the editorial committee. Any suggestions regarding topics which should be discussed or articles which might be available will be gratefully welcomed. One prominent object in the establishment of the QUARTERLY was to have the opportunity to lay before members of the Society a complete record of proposed changes, and if any evoked opposition to print the full discussion on all sides of these questions. This precludes in such cases any selection by the Editorial Committee, or any one else, and so far as possible any article on current topics will appear. All matter not especially designated is an expression of individual opinion for which the writer alone is responsible.